Cookie Monster looked closely at the big salad he was eating for dinner. He imagined a land made only of vegetables. There, he could play hide-and-seek in a broccoli forest! Can you find Grover?

His friends could throw cauliflower snowballs.
Eat those white snowballs!

Abby and her friends could slide down a celery slide as Grover and Elmo played cabbage ball!

Cookie Monster could sail away on a zucchini-and-snow-pea boat as a carrot sun shone in the sky. Eat up that bright orange sun! Yum, yum, yum!
